RE: REEVES V. COTTAGEVILLE

Dear Mr. Moore,

As you recall, our fee agreement stated, "Examiner's fee is $250.00 per hour for time reserved for services provided in preparation for all legal proceedings, including time reserved to review relevant records, letters, and/or discovery, declarations, affidavits, depositions, reports and testimony. The fee for providing declarations, depositions and testimony is $300.00 per hour of time reserved. The Examiner's fee is for time reserved for services provided including travel, portal-to-portal."

However, we agreed that I would not charge you this entire amount. In our discussions, you suggested a reasonable fee for my travel, preparation, and testimony time would be between $4,500 and $5,000.

I have calculated my time as follows:

3	hours preparation before coming to Charleston	@250.00	500.00
11.5	hours travel and preparation on October 2 nd .	@250.00	2875.00
2	hours of testimony on October 3 rd .	@300.00	600.00
10	hours of travel on October 3rd	@250.00	2500.00
		Total:	6475.00

However, as per our agreement, I will be charging you $5,000.00. Please let me know if that meets with your approval.

It was a pleasure working with you.
